Become an Evidence Champion

Jersey is a Partner of Research in Practice (RiP) and Research in Practice for Adults (RiPFA). They provide a wealth of learning resources and training to support evidence-informed practice with children, young people, adults, carers and families.

We are currently looking for colleagues within the States of Jersey to become Evidence Champions for RiP and RiPFA. Evidence Champions are individuals who support the use of evidence in their teams. They see learning and development as a way to improve and deliver services and they advocate the use of research in practice.

What does the Evidence Champion role involve?

As an Evidence Champion you can:

- provide support to your Link Officer either at an organisation level, or in your local teams
- take information about resources, publications, tools and learning events back to your team
- email practice issues or research questions to your Link Officer
- remind people in your team to ask about evidence and use resources
- advocate the use of our resources in team meetings, supervision and case discussion meetings

How can using evidence help me?

Using evidence can:

- improve the outcomes and experience of people you support
- support you to feel more confident in your decision making
- help you to meet your learning and development goals.

Evidence Champions are not limited by skills, education or knowledge. As long as you passionately care about evidence and are keen on supporting your colleagues to access resources that can help their day-to-day practice, you can be an Evidence Champion.

To find out more, discuss with your line manager and contact your Link Officer/s:

RiP - Aimie Tonsberg (a.tonsberg@gov.je) and Claire Farley (c.farley@gov.je)

RiPFA - Marion Walton (m.walton@gov.je) and Ruth Le Gresley (R.LeGresley@gov.je).

Don't forget you can sign up to webinars through Research In Practice and Research in Practice for Adults
